@FourSeasonsPR

As welcoming as it is prestigious, Four Seasons Hotel Beijing sets a new precedent for couples looking to exchange their vows in an exquisite city setting. The light-filled Atrium – home to Jane Dyer's soaring 66-metre (215 foot) sculpted butterfly art installation – is a favourite place to say "I do" beneath 400 stainless steel Chinese peacock butterflies, traditional symbols of love and dreams.

In addition, the Hotel boasts one of the city's largest and most luxurious event spaces: 3,250 square metres (35,000 square feet) of glamorous venues incorporating two ballrooms, nine event rooms and wide, boulevard-style corridors. From intimate family gatherings to elaborate feasts, the Hotel graces each and every gathering with attention to detail as exquisite as the setting itself. For the ultimate indulgence, the 988 square metre (9,700 square foot) Imperial Ballroom – complete with gleaming crystal chandeliers and champagne-leaf double-height ceiling – can seat more than 600 guests in unabashed luxury, perfect for both a traditional Chinese-style banquet and Western-style reception.

Personalised Flexible Wedding Packages

Whether tying the knot in a simple ceremony on a cosy winter's eve or hosting a lavish event on a warm summer's day, couples planning a wedding at Four Seasons Hotel Beijing will gain access to a team of Dream Wedding Consultants to support them every step of the way. Each couple is free to craft their own Dream Wedding Package – aided by their designated Consultant – based on a wide range of options covering everything from the ceremony, reception and catering to floristry, cake, decorations and transportation.

Bridal Boot Camp at The Spa at Four Seasons

Masterminded by The Spa at Four Seasons, Bridal Boot Camp is a unique wedding innovation designed to help brides and grooms harness their optimum vitality prior to walking down the aisle. The program sees individuals guided through bespoke fitness, toning, beauty and wellness plans designed by the Hotel's Wellness Experts up to a recommended six months prior to their wedding (although all timescales are accommodated).
